procedure The detailed analysis enables Rappoport to identify the work of particular teams of builders even individual masters and to follow their progress from one site to another and one town to a second Similarly he documents how the Byzantine styles and methods of church building imported into Russia after its conversion in 989 were gradually adapted to meet the needs of local circumstances and climate This study will be of direct relevance to those concerned with the architecture and the Church of pre Mongol Russia as well as its social history The investigation of the earliest churches furthermore represents the sole extended discussion of Byzantine building practices In terms of methodology the book will be of interest to all architectural historians and archaeologists concerned with the Middle Ages and makes accessible in English material that has hitherto only been available in Russian
